Although this phatta league was forgettable because I was hit for six sixes in an over by Dipin Sir, my cricketing career may have ended right there; putting my randi rona aside, this league was one of the best memories of my college life. It was fun playing with the friends who sit together at the backbench of every class.

We just came outside from the lecture hall after giving the end sem exam of ESO205. And my expressions were just sufficient to know that I fu**ed it up. We studied the whole night, which made me sleepy throughout the exam, and I couldn't do well. But remember, My friends call me RR king for a reason, hahahahaha!!!.

My marks were about average.

This pic is from the 6th sem from the course Che391. We were performing the tedious job of completing the innovation lab part in the UoP lab. And this was the moment when we got a sigh of relief. This lab course was the first time when we were actually performing experiments in the lab and It was nice working together as a group.

You're my lifeline in college, always there for me no matter what. I'm incredibly grateful for everything you've done.
You're the best person I've ever met, and I'll always owe you for helping me.

Thanks for being amazing! ❤

Heartfelt Farewells

Out of all our standout memories, I won't forget the execution of every plan we left for "Midsem ke baad" (#revealing our WhatsApp grp name 😂), which remained intact till the end, and our happiest moment when we all received our very first Academic Excellence Awards collectively. Just Kudos to the years of our togetherness!

(Here I am sharing my struggle and heartbreak moment. I am from a Hindi background and could not understand a single word of English. My first two semesters were very bad due to language issues, and until my sixth semester, I had a backlog of 54 credits. But finally, I completed all my courses till 7th semester. Here, I am showing my weak points: I have many backlogs and language issues, but finally, through hard work, consistency, and discipline, I completed my degree on time.)

Yeh trip shuru se lekar annt tak yaadgar rahi...train mai latak ke jana fir apni booked ticket cancel karke khataara bus mein aana. Full of adventure.
